TANGIBLE is a full-service consulting firm headquartered in Shelton, CT. We are a small business, founded in 2017 with a proven successful government contracting and subcontracting background, among other fields of service. We produce custom data solutions for government entities, non-profit organizations & growing businesses

The expert partners at Tangible help organizations meet and plan to exceed unique goals and use information to deliver tailor-made practical solutions, fast - and with a quality approach.

What sets us apart from the competition?

- Level of experience in and out of government contracting
- Spectrum of staff focus areas (analytics, HR, IT...)
- Adaptability to changing technology

AREAS OF PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

Tangible's consultants' experience levels range from 10 – 45 years and during this time they've had opportunities to provide superior service to customers including international businesses, small business, non-profit organizations and the municipal, state and federal government. In 2017 we formed Tangible as a combination of our experience and we continue to build our foundation of expertise with high-performing talent.

DIFFERENTIATORS While most consulting firms offer one primary focus, we've established a growing team – each a specialist in his or her field - that takes time to understand our customers' needs and we only provide the latest technology and most effective strategies that correlate with your primary focus.

We literally make data tangible... Our entire business was created around that concept. By working with us, you'll receive Tangible solutions. In our experience, this is something other organizations don't do as well, or with the same level of consistency as this firm.

LOCAL ACCOUNTABILITY Our firm is headquartered in Connecticut however we have consultants in all major United States cities, providing services nationwide. Tangible is prepared to respond quickly and in person.
